Dear Servant Leaders Across America:

November 2015

We are very honored and blessed to partner with you in ending slavery and trafficking in our nation and beyond. Our complete dependency upon the Father and interdependency towards one another is critical in pursuing our worthy cause.

We believe that 2016 must be the banner year for justice and freedom in cities across our land. In order for us to journey together in Christ's mandate, we ask for deeper commitment in abolishing modern-day slavery in each of our backyards and communities around the world.

We suggest the following prayer and action points for the coming year:

- Please start planning for National Weekend of Prayer (NWOP) to End Slavery and Trafficking, January 8-10, 2016. We have posted nine practical and transformative options to choose from for your congregation/ministry and your community. They include focusing on families and youth, inspiring congregations, hosting breakfast event together with local servant leaders, and connecting with national leaders via conference calling. For details, visit www.nwoprayer.org.
- Please assist us in inviting other congregations/ministries to join the growing NWOP coalition. As of today, approximately 100 churches, abolition ministries, prayer networks, and others partnering in our journey together. We are certain that most of you are in relationship with pastors and ministry leaders who may not be aware of our collaborative endeavor. Would you connect with these brothers and sisters and invite them to our partnership, and help us towards adding at least 200 to coalition list by end of this year? If you send your confirmations to us, we will be sure to add them to <http://www.nwoprayer.org/coalition/>.
- Please consider covering the Super Bowl Outreach, February 1-7, 2016 in prayer. As you may know, Super Bowl is one of the venues for traffickers to use children, women, and men to profit from sex trafficking. Next Super Bowl will be held in the Greater San Francisco Bay Area, one of the most active trafficking regions of our nation. Some of NWOP coalition member ministries are taking the opportunity in pursuing joint strategies towards rescuing the captives, cooperating with local government/law enforcement agencies, and bringing awareness to the millions.
- Please consider giving generously. Your prayers, active participation, and financial gifts are welcomed and much needed. With each passing year since 2011, NWOP movement has grown significantly and in order for us to pursue 2016 as our banner year, we would greatly appreciate love offerings this month and into December. This will allow us to cover several expenses coming our way. We realize that some of you are have financial challenges and we do not desire a deepened financial burden on anyone. Perhaps you, your congregation/ministry, and/or business leader in your community may have surplus and desire to sow into NWOP for the benefit of our nation and beyond. Would you prayerfully consider sending us tax-deductible donation(s)? We have setup a donation link here. Thank you!

We have great expectations for the rest of this year, during NWOP, and in 2016. Your ongoing partnership is critical in the pursuit of our worthy cause - To End Slavery and Trafficking.
